

Our High School Summer Peer Leaders

On April 6, your continual donations and prayers will launch our first Online Services and Programs to Restore youth and their families. Knowing you are praying for me, Ximena and our volunteers calms our nerves and assures us that things will work out. Here is what you are making possible for our members:

1. A weekly short encouragement from me.
2. Set times to get homework help
3. Group stretching, yoga and aerobics
4. Financial literacy classes
5. Virtual field trips and special events
6. General information for parents/guardians

I readjusted the Restore budget to reflect the current changes. I applied for the government economic help for nonprofits and small businesses. Tens of millions have applied all over the country and it is a first come first serve program. I will know the results by April 10th.

Your presence in this ministry is more important and valued now as we move into what all are calling uncharted territory.

Restore still has current bills and financial obligations. Our insurances such as workman comp, vehicle, board, accident and unemployment are due each month.

Most importantly, I want to keep Ximena, our Program Director, on the payroll. While I continue to deliver online speech therapy and calling and email all 80 students for my school district, Ximena is also working from home, busy setting up the online programs, registering the families and students, organizing the volunteers, coordinating homework help, and adding on all the things we haven't thought about.

I completely understand the changes that are taking place in your lives. For me, I've moved to my Mom's house in West Deptford in South Jersey to care for her and family members. I will travel back each month to Elizabeth to check my personal mail, the Restore P.O. mailbox for checks and to take care of personal and Restore business that I can't do at my Mom's.

You can continue to have an impact into the lives and wellness of students with your prayers and donations. We still have a $5000 match for monthly and quarterly donations during 2020.

By Giving online, you can give me the most helpful and safest way to receive your donations to Restore.
